Business3000 aims to recognise and promote Melbourne's businesses success through the Annual Awards program.

The Innovation Award was awarded to GT for their developed innovative solutions used in day-to-day operations. Mark Judd accepted the award on behalf of GT and made comment during the evening that Business3000 is an excellent program for showcasing and acknowledging Melbourne's business's success.

"No business will thrive merely by replicating what other businesses do. Geomatic Technologies point of difference is in applying technology creatively, and from top to bottom their business is firmly customer focused. They are worthy winners of the Business3000 Innovation award," Said Soozey Johnstone, member of the B3000 Committee.
